Larkspur Non-Profit Schurig Center for Brain Injury Recovery
Appoints New Board of Directors Chair and Vice Chair

(Larkspur, CA) Schurig Center for Brain Injury Recovery (“Schurig Center”) is pleased to announce Catherine Way has been appointed as Chair of the organization’s Board of Directors and Ellen Takayama has been appointed Vice Chair.

Catherine Way joined Schurig Center's Board in 2016. Ms. Way is a retired registered nurse and former managing partner of a surgical-legal consulting firm. As the daughter of a stroke survivor, she brings personal knowledge of the unique challenges that brain injury survivors and their families face to regain their best quality of life after an injury. Ms. Way is also an active community volunteer and a dedicated public servant who currently serves on the Larkspur City Council.

Ellen Takayama has been a Schurig Board member since 2012, and she has led the planning of the organization’s Annual Gala event since its inception. Ms. Takayama brings a wealth of business management and human resources experience built during her 37 years with Macy's, Inc. in various positions, including Vice President of Human Resources.

About Schurig Center for Brain Injury Recovery

Based in Larkspur, CA, Schurig Center for Brain Injury Recovery is a non-profit charitable organization that helps people adjust to life changes after a brain injury, like a concussion or stroke. We pick up where the healthcare system leaves off by offering an array of 13 therapeutic and supportive services to help people live their best life possible after brain injury. Schurig Center provides a place where survivors and their families can gather for continued rehabilitation, brain injury education, and support from brain injury experts and others who understand. We help ensure no one is alone after brain injury. www.SchurigCenter.org
